CONSULTATION EVENTS 2018

FOR PEOPLE WHO HEAR VOICES & THEIR SUPPORTERS

- Do you hear voices, or support someone who hears voices?
- Have you ever searched online to try to find good quality information about voice-hearing & different support options?
- Are you Black, Asian or from a minority ethnic community?

Hearing the Voice at Durham University is working with members of the voice-hearing community to develop 'Integrated Voices' - a new web resource to help people find clear, balanced and comprehensive information about voice-hearing.

We hope that Integrated Voices will make it easier for people to find information about different approaches to voice-hearing and ways of supporting those who are struggling with the voices they hear. But, to make this work we need your help.

If you hear voices or support someone who hears voices, you can help shape the project by either coming to a consultation event or filling out an online survey (<http://tinyurl.com/integrated-voices>). We'd particularly like to hear from voice-hearers, their friends and family members from Black, Asian and minority ethnic communities.

The events are facilitated by Mary Robson, Victoria Patton and Rai Waddingham. They will help us understand what the site should include and how we can make it as useful as possible.
