

Hearing the Voice Research Showcase and Futures Meeting

Holgate Conference Centre
Grey College, Durham, DH1 3LG
11 September 2013

11.00 – 11.15: Arrivals, tea & coffee, introductions

11.15 – 11.45: Year One of Hearing the Voice: Where are we now?

Charles Fernyhough

11.45 – 13.00: Hearing the Voice Research Showcase

Ben Alderson-Day, Postdoctoral Research Associate in Psychology

'The Stuff of Voices: Mapping the Clinical, Neural and Cognitive Correlates of Different Types of Inner Speech'

Hilary Powell, Postdoctoral Research Fellow in the Centre for Medical Humanities and the Department of English Studies

'Voice-hearing: A Medieval Perspective'

Sam Wilkinson, Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Philosophy

'Auditory Verbal Hallucination and the Anticipatory Nature of Experience'

Marco Bernini, Junior Research Fellow in the Department of English Studies

'Stories from a Brain Listening to Itself: A Cognitive Take on Beckett's Fictional Voices'

13.00 – 14.00: Lunch

14.00 – 15.30: Small group discussions

Experiments

Hermeneutics

Interdisciplinary methodologies

Making a difference

15.30 – 16.00: Tea & Coffee

16.00 – 17.00: Where to next?

19.00: Dinner at Oldfields Eating House, 18 Claypath, Durham, DH1 1RH