General information

We warmly welcome you to Trondheim to meet researchers and mental health professionals from different countries and cultures to share knowledge and collaborate on research topics involving auditory hallucinations.

Topics

The overall theme of the conference is research on experiences of hearing voices in clinical and non-clinical populations and clinical interventions.

The topics are:

- Phenomenology of voice experiences
- Neurobiology of hearing voices
- Lived experience of hearing voices
- Clinical interventions

Guidelines for abstract submission

Abstracts can be submitted for Oral and Poster presentations and Workshop proposals. For Workshop proposals, the abstract should outline the content of the workshop. The organizing committee of the satellite consortium meeting welcomes submissions that reflect the topics of the conference. Abstracts should not exceed 300 words (Author(s), institute(s) and country not included). The abstracts must be written in English. All abstracts received will be peer reviewed by the Conference's Scientific Committee. A research abstract should include a title, the aim of the study, methods, results and conclusion. A clinical practice abstract should include a title, theoretical underpinning, development process, results, implications and learning outcome.
